PLAYED AT JAP MURDER

The Sheriff Stops Hilo Crime Drama.

PRINCE KUHIO ON ISLE OF HAWAII

Political Meetings Arouse Republican Enthusiasm—Porto Rican Runs Amuck.

HILO, October 24.—Hilo not only has there are also Japanese dramatists, play writers and stage artists here who double discount the enterprising sensation hunters who haunt the theaters of San Francisco and New York. The latest adaptation in Hilo's Japanese theater was not from a popular novel, nor a stage depiction of striking situations drawn from real life among the smart set. It was nothing more and nothing less than the reproduction of a murder case which lately occupied several weeks of the time of the local District Magistrate.

The dramatization of the Motohiro murder and the trial of the Japanese accused of his felonious taking off was done by an obscure but talented local play writer. The deeds which he sought to reproduce upon the stage were of such recent occurrence that his memory alone was drawn upon to the relief of his imaginative powers. The scene was laid in Front street, the thoroughfare on which the defunct Motohiro came to grief. If the Sheriff had not stopped the play before it had closed, it is supposed that a court scene and possibly a prison scene, showing Watanabe and Funicoshi on the reef in charge of Jailor Henry, would have been produced. Motohiro did not have a chance to cut his own throat or have it cut by his mock torturers. The play so far as it went was witnessed with interest by Carl Smith, Messrs. Wise & Ross, and W. H. Smith, attorneys in the case, as well as representatives of the Sheriff.

The Sheriff stopped the play. The prisoners committed to the Grand Jury on the charge of murdering the Japanese Motohiro were brought from Honolulu this week by Sheriff Andrews and put through one more stunt of appearing before the court "to be remanded to the custody of the sheriff." This time the prisoners were taken before Judge Little and all were remanded except one who was out on bonds. His bond was pronounced defaulted.

It all came about because of the special term of court held at Hilo this month. These prisoners were committed by the District Magistrate to the next Grand Jury at the ensuing term of court. At this special term Judge Little called no Grand Jury and the Sheriff grew alarmed lest his oft-remanded prisoners should claim that they were not permitted to appear at the "next term." So he brought them all over, including Teddy Scoville and had them remanded to the next Grand Jury. Funicoshi, Watanabe and Scoville show the marks of care incident to life on the Reef and steamer travel on the Claudine. As they each stood up before Judge Little, Sheriff Andrews asked that the prisoners be remanded, the counsel for defendants objected to the allowance of the Sheriff's motion. The court overruled the objections and disallowed exceptions. The court explained to the repeated objections of Messrs. LeBlond and Ross that he was taking no jurisdiction over the defendants beyond the point necessary to remand them to the custody of the sheriff. What further complications may arise in these cases has not developed.

REPUBLICANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

As soon as Prince Cupid supped after landing from the Claudine Wednesday evening, he with his party was taken to the Waiala meeting house where a big crowd of Hawaiians were awaiting him. The head of the ticket immediately launched into a spirited speech and was greeted with applause at every turn. The sensational incident of the evening was the interruption of Prince Cupid by Kanho, the campaign spokesman of Palmer P. Wood, candidate for the senate on the Home Rule ticket. He openly called Prince Cupid a traitor, whereupon the speaker poured a few hot shots from the rostrum that subdued his accuser. The Prince intimated that such impoliteness might call for corporal punishment.

The meeting at Waiala kept Cupid stock booming. Others who addressed the meeting were Judge Kepoikai, Archie Mahaulu, Admiral Beckley and S. L. Desha.

Yesterday afternoon the Republican managers in Hilo were busy with the biggest preparations of the campaign for the rally and political meeting last night. The arrival of Prince Cupid and party from Maui injected new life into the work here and as a result a torch light procession was organized at once with everybody willing to step into line for the good Prince Cupid.

The speakers slated for last night's meeting were Prince Cupid, Judge Kepoikai of Maui, Admiral Beckley, A. B. Loebenstein, S. L. Desha, Kekoa, James Lewis and G. W. Paty.

Prince Cupid returns to Maui today by the Claudine. He says he is greatly pleased with his prospects. He finds the people on Maui wildly enthusiastic for the Republican cause. He is now satisfied with Hilo and feels that a week's good work in Honolulu will establish his victory complete.

The Prince has developed wonderfully under the pressure of the work of the campaign. He has taken on skill in debate and is at home whether nailing the misrepresentations of Wilcox or whether parrying brickbats hurled by bolterous adversaries in the audience. The Prince grows with every new experience.

The Republican meeting at Honokaa Tuesday night was the best of the campaign. The citizens planned and carried out an old fashioned mainland rally. A huge bonfire was built and bombs were fired in a noisy reception to the Republican orators who were to present their views on the issues of the hour. Those who addressed the people were Rev. Mr. Hill of Oahu, Messrs. Pritchard, Lewis, Paty, Chas. Williams, Schellberg and Manoult. The sentiment for Prince Cupid is reported to be growing more enthusiastic every day through the Hamakua district.—Tribune.

OUTLOOK HOPEFUL.

W. H. Lambert says that in San Francisco the interest in the proposed Kohala-Hilo railroad and that there is a belief that good results will attend Mr. Peck's efforts with the capitalists there. Mr. Lambert brought back no definite news regarding floating the bonds, but the investors there think favorably of the scheme.—Herald.

PORTO RICAN USES SHEARS.

A Porto Rican is in jail charged with stabbing three Japanese at Keauau last Saturday. According to his statement he was invited into a Japanese shack to drink sake and when he had imbibed to his heart's content he started to leave the place. His hosts tried to stop him and he resented the interference. Then the Japanese assaulted him and he drew a pair of scissors and stabbed three of them, one in the groin. The men were badly injured and were brought to the Hilo Hospital for treatment.—Herald.

ARE AT THE CRATER.

Prof. Brigham, Prof. and Mrs. Bryan and Miss Stokes of the Bishop Museum staff went up to the volcano last Friday to remain ten days. While there the gentlemen will take measurements of the crater and gather specimens of plant life peculiar to that elevation.—Herald.

A HILO WEDDING.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lyman, parents of the groom, the marriage of R. J. Lyman and Miss Phoebe Williams was solemnized Wednesday evening by Rev. S. L. Desha. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of the relatives and friends of the couple. The rooms of the Lyman home were beautifully decorated with tropical flowers and ferns. During the ceremony the bride pair stood beneath a canopy of woven malle and yellow chrysanthemums. After congratulations the company was served with a delightful wedding supper.

WAIPIO FOR CUPID.

The Republican campaigners report splendid meetings in Waipio. Last Monday evening a big Republican rally called out nearly all the voters in Waipio Valley. The speakers at the meeting were James Lewis, Geo. W. Paty, Messrs. Jones, Pritchard, Hobson and Manoult. The meeting was one of the most successful of the campaign. From impressions gained on this tour, the feeling among the campaigners is that Cupid will be elected without a doubt.—Herald.

MRS. HYDE IN HILO.

The session of the Teachers' Reading Circle last Tuesday evening was well attended, showing a prospect that these excellent evenings of literary and historical study will attract a wider circle of interest this year than ever. The ladies were fortunate Tuesday evening in having with them Mrs. Hyde of Honolulu, who in the eighties spent several months in Europe with her late husband. Mrs. Hyde was able to give the subject of the evening an exceptional interest with her account of Rome as she saw it herself. She devoted most of her talk to the Roman roads.—Tribune.

NEWS NOTES.

While in the east John A. Scott engaged Mr. J. J. Marlin of Pittsburg, Pa., to take the place of Mr. Sedgwick as Superintendent of the Hilo Electric Light works. Mr. Marlin left a position with the Westinghouse people to come to Hilo.

Louisa, daughter of James Graham, died suddenly of convulsions Tuesday night. She was about eight years old and a bright child.

W. H. Lambert, superintendent of the Hilo Railroad Company, returned from the Coast by the Enterprise entirely restored to health.

A. Lindsay, Jr., graduate of the law department of Ann Arbor, returned by the Enterprise and will go to his home in Kona on Monday.

Whitehouse & Hauxhurst, contractors who are to build the stone arch bridge over Pukihue guich, begin work today. The structure when completed will be the largest and best stone arch bridge on this island. The span is thirty-five feet. It will be a substantial torrent proof bridge.

Mrs. J. A. Scott did not return home with Mr. Scott by the Enterprise. She will remain some months in Brooklyn, New York. Alvah Scott has entered Cascadilla school, Ithaca, New York, and will not return to Hilo until next June. Irwin Scott has entered Lorrainville school at Greenhouse, New Jersey. The first cotillion club dance of the season was held at Spreckels' hall last Saturday evening.

MAUI'S LIVELY WEEK

Attempt to Burn Baldwin Hall.

POLITICS, SUICIDE, AND MURDER

A Man Nearly Killed by an Explosion of Giant Powder. Kihei's Crude Oil.

MAUI, Oct. 25.—Prince Kuhio's tour through Hana district has been marked by ovation after ovation. The people turned out en masse, Republicans, Home Rulers and Democrats, the large and small, men, women and children. The start was made on Saturday morning, the 18th, from Hamakua. During that day the Prince and the speakers of his party addressed the people of Huelo at noon and those of Keanae in the evening. Fine luau and large crowds the rule at both meetings.

After a night's rest at Keanae, on Sunday the party journeyed on to Nahiku where at noon another mass meeting and feast took place. Here the Prince and the carriage in which he rode underwent a siege in which the missiles used were flowers. The villagers not only adorned him with a multitude of leis, but pelted him with flowers, bouquets and wreaths until the carriage was well-nigh filled.

One hundred and fifty of the Nahiku residents escorted Kalaniana'ole and party for ten or twelve miles into Hana where, Sunday night, a very large assemblage of people took place at the court house. Not only was the building itself filled with people, but the yard was crowded and overflowed into the street.

There were crowds of Hawaiians all eager to see and listen to the "alii" candidate. Plantation trains conveyed to and fro large numbers of people from Honomale and Hamoa.

Monday noon the stumping party addressed a large meeting at the Catholic church at Hamoa. This locality though being a Home Rule stronghold turned out to a man, in fact to a woman or child, for the purpose of giving careful attention to the words of Kuhio. It is rumored that his speech here caused a quarrel among the Home Rulers.

Monday evening another ovation was given the Prince at Kipahulu, the native church being crowded to the doors. About 150 Hana people escorted the speakers to Kipahulu, a matter of ten miles. These large escorts to the Prince are proofs of his popularity.

I CURE MEN!

With Lame Backs, With Weak Nerves, With Rheumatism, With Lost Vitality

A man is like a steam engine. It takes steam to make him go. My belt pumps that steam into him. That's how it makes so many old men feel young. Mr. A. Crawford, Pokemana, Ore., says: "I am 70 years old, but your belt has made me feel like 35." Try it, you weak men; you will find youth and vigor in it after everything else fails. Call and test it, free, or I will send you my illustrated book, free, if you will enclose this ad.
